October 21, 2005

The Honorable Charles E. Grassley
Chairman, Senate Finance Committee
United States Senate
135 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Chairman Grassley,

We are writing to urge you to support the reinstatement of a deduction for charitable contributions by taxpayers who do not itemize deductions on their tax returns. This proposal is similar to a deduction that was available to non-itemizing taxpayers from 1982-1986.

As you may know, this deduction was included in legislation passed overwhelmingly on the House and Senate floors during the 108th Congress (S. 476 and H.R. 7). While President Bush did not include the provision in his most recent budget request to Congress for federal fiscal year 2006, he has done so in previous budgets submitted to Congress. The provision has been included in legislation introduced this year in the Senate (S. 1780) and in the House (H.R. 3908).

More than two-thirds of Americans do not itemize. Each year, this group of Americans contributes an estimated $36 billion to charities. On March 8, 2005, United Way of America released an analysis that concluded that reinstating the non-itemizer deduction, as proposed in the Senate CARE Act, would generate billions of dollars in increased giving to charities each year.

Research also shows that lower and moderate-income individuals are more likely to be non-itemizers, and that they give a greater percentage of their incomes to charity than do higher income individuals. They are thus more likely to receive the benefits of this deduction.

The undersigned organizations support policies that promote charitable giving and strengthen America's communities. We believe that reinstating a charitable deduction for taxpayers who do not itemize deductions on their tax returns would be an important step toward these worthwhile goals.

Respectfully yours,

NATIONAL
