

How Girl Scouts Measure Up

Many of the women who have flown into space were Girl Scouts.

Girl Scouts are more likely to consider themselves leaders compared to their peers:

Each year, Girl Scouts collectively spend tens of millions of hours improving their communities.

73% of current female senators are Girl Scout alums.

63% of Girl Scout alums consider themselves competent and capable, compared to 55% of non-alums.

1 out of 2 businesswomen in the U.S. are Girl Scout alums.

According to the World Bank, investments in women and girls strengthen countries'...

- ability to grow
- ability to reduce poverty
- ability to govern effectively
