4. Once you finish, you can begin to edit your board using the menu of buttons below the board title.

a. Begin by selecting “Add to Board” and posting something. TIP: The best way to create a great Kudoboard is to add a nice first post (others will follow your lead).

b. After you add a post, set a deadline for the board by selecting “Schedule Delivery” (it’s good to have in place before inviting others to participate).

c. Then, select “Invite Contributors” to begin inviting others to participate, and watch the contributions roll in!

5. Once the board is all set, you can deliver it to your girl’s troop leader in a variety of ways: send it online, download and print it as a poster, or play it as a slideshow (Milestone Boards only) at your next troop meeting!

6. If you want to shout out your troop leader publicly after you’ve delivered the board, wrap up by posting the link to the board on social media and include the hashtag #NVM2020

Consider creating a Kudoboard for the other volunteers in your troop, too, like your cookie manager!

Bonus: You can create a board that can be sent to multiple people, so if you have 2 to 5 leaders, you can create one board to send to all of them!
