General Information

- Researchers may only access the Collection after submitting their Research Application and receiving authorization from a Cultural Assets staff member.

- Access to records is governed by the GSUSA Collection Management Policy. Materials issued to researchers are subject to any specific conditions relating to individual collections and/or United States Copyright Law.

- Archival access and research assistance provided to a researcher by a GSUSA Cultural Assets designated staff member does not make a publication authorized or licensed by GSUSA.

- No publication or broadcast (print, web, film, etc.) of archival materials is permitted without written permission. If GSUSA approves the usage, the publication must attribute the material source as specified by GSUSA.

- GSUSA may require authors to use disclaimers or other language in their publications if, in the sole discretion of GSUSA, such language is necessary to clarify that a work is not authorized, endorsed or licensed by GSUSA. Researchers agree to comply with any such requirements of GSUSA. Please be sure to inform your publisher, if applicable, of these requirements.
• GSUSA requests a copy of published work where the findings from the GSUSA Collection & Archive are used.

• All research requests have a two-week processing time for the initial response. A shorter rush processing time may be available for an additional fee.

• A virtual research consultation is required before all research projects or appointments.

• Researchers will be responsible for all shipping fees of boxes recalled from GSUSA’s off-site storage facility.

In-Person Research Policies

• All in-person research is by appointment only; appointments are available Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays, except for Thanksgiving week and mid-December to early January. Limit to two researchers per day in the ARC.

• No eating or drinking is permitted near research materials or in the research area(s).

• Pencils must be used for handwritten notes. No other writing implements are allowed.

• Laptop computers may be used. There is guest wireless available.

• Digital reproduction of assets for research purposes (with cell phones, tablets, digital camera, GSUSA microfiche machine, etc.) is allowed with permission from the designated staff member. You will be required to read and accept the Digital Photography Policy when you visit.

• No use of personal portable desktop scanners permitted.

• Researchers are allowed a maximum of 5 boxes of materials to be shipped from off-site storage for their visit.

• While examining the contents of the boxes, only one volume, a small box of records, or 5 folders will be issued to each researcher at a time. The researcher must return materials to staff to retrieve the next set of materials.

• Researchers must handle all records carefully and must not mark, fold, tear, or otherwise harm the records. Researchers must not rearrange or interfere in any way with the order of archival material.

• If you accidentally damage material, believe there are missing items in a file, or notice deterioration or damage that needs immediate attention, please alert staff.
